STATE SAFETY PATROL TO ENFORCE RULES OF MISSISSIPPI ROADWAYS

New Law to Be Enforced to Very Letter—Patrol Not to Pester But to Protect Public, Commissioner Says—Rules For Drivers.

Special Sea Coast Echo:

Jackson, Miss., June 23.—One week from tomorrow the newly commissioned State Highway Safety Patrol will begin enforcing Mississippi's first "Rules of the Road" law, passed at the last regular session of the Mississippi Legislature.

First of the safety statutes to be enforced by the patrol, the "Rules of the Road" law seeks to standardize good driving practices on the State's new highways in an attempt to cut the number of road accidents. The Mississippi statute follows closely the model Rules of the Road act drawn up by the National Safety Council and found to be effective in other States.

Major T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety for the State, emphasizes that "The Patrol would like to have the traveling public know that its intentions are not to pester, but to protect those using the highways of Mississippi."

"With this definitely in the mind of every patrolman," continues Major Birdsong, "It is the plan of the Patrol to promote a Safety Education Campaign for a reasonable length of time. To make this campaign a worthwhile undertaking, it is necessary that the people cooperate to the very fullest extent."

Some of these provisions of the statute on which patrolmen will take action are:

Any driver of a vehicle involved in an accident must stop as soon as it is safely possible and return to the scene of the accident to render any service possible.

It shall be the duty of the patrolman to take immediate action when a driver is guilty of driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The speed limit on the highway in general outside of the limits of municipalities shall be 55 miles an hour for passenger cars, and 40 miles per hour for trucks.

Drivers are warned to drive on the right side of the road at all times, with the following exceptions:

1. When overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction.
2. When right half of the roadway is closed to traffic.
3. When upon a roadway designated and sign-posted for one-way traffic.
4. When using a roadway divided into three marked lanes.

No person may stop or park on the improved or main traveled part of the highway except in case of emergency. In such cases of emergency there must be displayed the parking lights of a passenger car and in case of disabled truck there shall be provided a light one hundred feet in front of the vehicle and one immediately to the roadway side of the vehicle.

Every passenger car operated upon the highway one half hour after sunset or one half hour before sunrise, or at any other time when there is not sufficient light to render clear vision for at least 500 feet, must have at least two front lamps displaying white light, and at least one rear lamp exhibiting a red light.

Maccabees Hold Meeting And Fish-Fry Thursday

The Bay St. Louis Maccabees, Tent 67, enjoyed an informal meeting and fish-fry on that section of Waveland Beach, known as Jackson ridge, last Thursday night, June 16. The fish for the occasion were caught, supplied and even cooked by the following members, residents of Waveland, Fred Bourgeois, Ducre Bourgeois, Edgar Bourgeois and Sidney Carrio.

The affair proved of so much pleasure, that another is planned for some time in the immediate future.

SELLS BEACH FRONT BUSINESS PROPERTY.

Mrs. A. Battistella sold to Laurent L. Kergosien of Bay Saint Louis, the business one-story frame building at present occupied by Norman Benigno as a restaurant and cafe, formerly the Shamrock. The building was originally built by the late F. C. Bordages, opposite his place of residence adjoining the A. & G. Theater.

Mr. Kergosien, with full faith in the future of Bay St. Louis, purchased the property as an investment. Mr. Benigno will continue as a tenant.

PATTERSON IS ROTARY SPEAKER

"Mississippi's Coast Highway Program" Subject Of Talk—Official Visitor.

Hiram J. Patterson, chairman of the Mississippi Highway Commission was guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club, Hotel Reed Wednesday. He discussed "Mississippi's Coast Highway Program" and touched upon several local projects. In introducing the official visitor, President Norton Haas praised the work of the Highway Department in handling this gigantic highway building program. He also expressed appreciation for the splendid co-operation received from Chairman Patterson in connection with local highway problems. A group of State and county officials were present as guests of the club for the occasion.

Chairman Patterson opened his address by stating that under the provisions of the W. P. A. grant the Highway Department was required to put all funds under contract in a very limited time. For this reason if required day and night work, getting up plans and specifications, ready to submit to bidders, and finally getting all work under contract. He declared that some citizens criticized the department for delay in paving roads after grading work was completed. He said, that he strongly favored these delays, because this allowed time for traffic and the elements to set up an excellent foundation for pavement. He added, "I would much rather have your condemnation now, than later when the faulty road construction would show up."

The speaker brought out that Mississippi was late with a modern highway system, but had gained a great advantage by waiting. Road construction in Mississippi, he continued when completed will cost the taxpayers of the state less than any other highway system in the south. And will be second to that great road system boasted of by the state of north Carolina.

Chairman Patterson praised the work of Commissioners Abe Linker, Sidney Ruebeck and Director Kenna, but added that the real work was achieved by the men behind the scenes, the names of these men never appeared in the papers, probably were not known throughout the department. In conclusion in touching upon the Mississippi Coast, Chairman Patterson said, the Highway Department was co-operating in a plan to make this section outstanding, truly "The Riviera of America."

Immediately following adjournment, the Road Committee of the Rotary Club, and County Officials, held a brief meeting with Chairman Patterson for the discussion of local projects. County roads extending from Pieayune to Pass Christian also from Poplarville, by Kiln to Bay St. Louis, have been placed on the State Highway system, but not accepted by the commission as yet. Local officials and citizens are anxious to have these roads taken over by the department, and hard-faced. Chairman Patterson assured the group present of his 100 per cent co-operation in this undertaking, and stated that the "Farm-to-Market" plan would be of great assistance toward the realization of this plan.

Those present as guests of the club were as follows: Sen. Frank B. Pittman, Rep. R. O. Biggersstaff of Harrison county; John Rester, O. Q. McCormack, Members of Road Committee; T. E. Keller, Jack Loft, Calvin Shaw, Members of Board of Supervisors; A. G. Favre, Clerk of Courts; Attorney Walter J. Gex, K. G. McCarty, Supt. of Education.

R. W. TAYLOR SCHOOL HAS EXCEPTIONALLY SUCCESSFUL SESSION.

Partial Review of Work of One of the Best Schools In the State—Mrs. Stockstill Principal.

We are quite proud of city schools for various reason, their high standard of efficiency and quality of work turned out. Our schools are operating along a constructive course of study and the same type of endeavor. The plan is to develop and to build. How well our schools succeed in this is best attested to by the high standard maintained.

The past term of R. W. Taylor School, city ward school, at Cedar Point section of the city, was a successful one from various angles. The enrollment reached 40 before the end of the session. This enrollment justifies the school in this section of the city. Mrs. Lena D. Stockstill, principal, and her pupils have been busy all thru the year.

The serving of lunches to pupils on the premises began October 3 much to the enjoyment and benefit of the pupils, all of the tender age. At All Hallows' the children were regaled with a party served at no cost to them. It is needless to say everyone present enjoyed the occasion.

At Christmas time Mr. George E. Pitcher, one of the benefactors of the schools, contributed all the presents for the Christmas tree, and Mrs. Lillie K. Leonard, another benefactor, donated all candy necessary.

"We certainly thank these generous friends," said Mrs. Stockstill to The Echo, "for such generous and material help. Without these we could not give these children such a treat at a time they look most for such consideration."

During the session two penny parties were given, benefit P. T. A. fund. A generous check from a firm doing business in Bay St. Louis made it possible to purchase books for some children that were not able to bear the expense for themselves. Such substantial help was particularly appreciated during these days of depression.

At Christmas time the WPA took over the lunch proposition and continued until the end of the school term, serving a hot lunch at noon every day and for which help the school faculty and pupils express their gratitude. As a result of this aid pupils gained in weight and there was a marked improvement in the school generally among the pupils and their work.

At the end of the session gold medals were awarded, as follows: Perfect attendance—Elsie Noto. Reading—Mary Margaret Johnston.

Spelling (a tie) so two medals were given one to Edward Randolph and one to Jerry Hicks—both of these pupils were splendid spellers having missed only two words during the entire nine months.

The scholarship medal was awarded to Raymond Benvenuti, with the highest general average.

Mr. Pitcher gave two of these medals.

The Sea Coast Echo gave one, Mrs. Stockstill gave one and the P. T. A. of Taylor School donated one.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT CHURCH OF GOOD HOPE, AT DELISLE

Three Hundred People Attend Catholic Services—Visitors Present Noted.

Last Sunday fully three hundred people attended mass at the Catholic church of Our Lady of Good Hope, at DeLisle, on the Bay of St. Louis. As usual, the singing was of high quality and added to the beauty and solemnity of the holy mass.

There were a number of visitors present, tourists camps in the vicinity contributing appreciably to the attendance. It was noted there was quite a delegation from Opelousas, La.

Among the visitors one was outstanding—a young man sitting in the sanctuary studying for the priesthood—Mr. Hilman Baudreant.

The Rev. Father Sorin, pastor, took occasion of the young man's presence to earnestly recommend to parents to pray for religious vocations for their children, either for the priesthood or the sisterhood and brotherhood; that if such disposition is manifested to cherish the thought and cultivate the intention. He said God showers special graces and favors to those thus inclined to follow the pious desire of the heart.

"If we respond to the call of the Almighty God," said the beloved pastor of the church, "we can feel certain of his everlasting protection and blessing, for He Himself said: 'Everyone that has left his home or brothers or sisters, or lands for My name's sake, shall receive an hundred fold, and shall possess life everlasting.' (Matthew XIX-29)"

PREPARING FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN

WPA Workers and Assistants 'Canning' Thousands of Jars—Vegetables and Fruit For Winter.

A number of women are working hard and possibly overtime these days in a building located rear of the former Bartholomew Spornotto dwelling in Hancock street. This structure was formerly a laundry place. It will be used this coming winter for school children lunch room, under auspices St. Margaret's Daughters and a WPA project.

The building has been put in condition and is use is generously given free by the owners. Present workers are "canning" thousands of jars of vegetables and fruit to be used next winter for the lunches.

Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, president St. Margaret's Daughters, who donates her time and services to this project of WPA, is superintending and aiding in the actual work.

There are many jars with their good looking contents put away on the shelves of a roomy pantry. These contain snap beans, tomatoes, celery, apples, beets and other vegetables and fruit.

"We already have several hundreds of jars put up and away but this is hardly a circumstance to what we plan to accomplish," said Mrs. Blaize. "We must have one thousand jars of snap beans, same number of tomatoes, principally and of other vegetable and fruit. A thousand of each is necessary in order to run our schedule for lunches thru the entire school year."

Mrs. Blaize said there was a shortage of jars and many families have a number of these containers not in use and could be contributed to the cause of the undernourished and underprivileged children. Every kitchen has a number of jars not in use, a surplus supply. These can be put to good use and practical purposes. Never mind about the caps, said Mrs. Blaize. We have ample supply of these that will fit such glass containers. How many can you give, dear reader? Communicate with Mrs. Blaize or deliver at her residence or at school lunch headquarters.

SUMMER ROUND-UP.

The Parent Teacher Association of Bay Saint Louis has designated Friday, June 24 for the physical examination of all pre-school children that are to enter school during the session 1938-39. The physical examination of these children will be made in the Central School building. Arrangements have been made with the local doctors who will be assisted in making these examinations by physicians from New Orleans who have assisted us in former years. The physical examination will be limited to the children who are to enter school next session and others who are below par or are not in good health and in need of medical advice. In addition to the physical examinations we are extremely anxious to have all children that are over six months and under five years of age vaccinated for diphtheria. We urge the mothers of all children to bring them to the clinic and have them immunized against that disease.

CITY SAYS NO WASTE OF WATER

Mayor G. Y. Blaize and board of city commissioners have given notice to water users of Bay St. Louis that the general waste of water over night will have to cease. Failure to do so will cause supply of water to be cut off.

In the event of fire, says Mayor Blaize, should the supply of water in the tower be low and pressure down there is no telling what the result would be.

"Many people, and the practice is general," he said, "often allow faucets and garden sprinklers to remain running all night, quite unnecessarily, and frequently during the day. This is a great drain on the water supply and exhausts not only the supply but pressure as well."

The authorities wish the public to co-operate with the city; to help remedy a menacing situation. As result of the waste in some places water fails to reach the level it should and users in houses fail to get supply.

Co-operation and consideration are asked. It will be appreciated by the authorities and perhaps avert dire calamity and serious loss to life and property.

EXTRA SESSION FOR JULY

Gov. White Postpones Calling Legislature Together From June 27 Until July.

Because of pressure of uncertainty over relief money for highways, and the necessity of Governor White's going to Washington to confer on this matter, the Mississippi executive yesterday postponed the extraordinary session of the legislature from June 27 until sometime in July.

An attempt to gain an early audience with President Roosevelt for early next week, failed to produce any appointment. The President spent the entire week-end away from his office at the wedding of his son in Nyhat, Mass., and is not expected to return to Washington until late in the week.

The governor feels that he could not leave here during the extra session, and also believes that his presence in Washington is required to get the $27,000,000 he is asking from the federal government to supplement Mississippi's new $40,000,000 paving program.

The governor conferred with officials and legislative advisers Saturday afternoon prior to postponing the date of the session. He was scheduled to issue his formal call, but after the conferences, put off sending out his summons until a later date.

The governor's statement indicated that he wanted to talk with Secretary Ickes as well as the president before holding his session. Although primarily for the purpose of considering homestead exemption plans. Other topics are on the probable list for discussion at the session.

It was said Saturday that three bills are already prepared for consideration, one of which provides for the exemptions. Another setting up a refund to the counties and municipalities for losses under the exemption act, and another providing machinery for distribution of these funds to the smaller taxing districts.

HERE'S A BATCH OF "DAYS."

If there is anything that the American people like better than organizations with impressive names it is special occasions, denominated by high-sounding titles.

Last Sunday, if we mistake not, was Father's Day. Like Mother's Day, it is becoming highly commercialized. In most families the old man got a variety of socks, ties and whatever else acceptable-to-the-male happened to be on sale at reasonable prices during the week before. Afterwards, he is supposed to get back into harness and "pull the plow" for another year. Quite frankly, we like the idea of Mother's Day, even though at the hands of many sons and daughters it has degenerated into a perfunctory giving of gifts. Properly observed by children, in the presence of one mother and in honor of all mothers, it has possibilities. At the same time, and equally as frankly, we don't think so much of Father's Day.

However, for the benefit of people who insist on having days and confining ourselves exclusively to the family circle, we suggest that a day be set aside every year to be known as Husband's Day. Another day should be called Wife's Day. There should be one for the first son, the second son, the third son and another for the first daughter, the second daughter and the third daughter. If necessary, the proper number of future days should be set aside for additional off-spring.

Surely, any reputable family would want a Cook's Day, and to be fair, let's include one to be known as Yard Boy's Day. As a general cover-up, Family Day ought to help some. Moreover, there should be Marriage Anniversary Day, Family Doctor's Day, Butcher's Day, Grocer's Day, No-Quarrel Day, Tax-Paying Day and Mortgage Due Day. Just for good measure, let's throw in a week and call it "Be Kind To Family Week."

We regret that space in The Echo is needed for what some may consider more important subjects. Consequently, we will have to shut off our valuable flow of suggestions for future day. However, if any reader wants a suitable title for each of the 365 days in the year, just drop us a line and inclose a $5 bill, and the complete list will be returned by mail.

COAST SHOULD HAVE MORE

THE Gulfport Guide, noting the increased popularity of the Gulf Coast, and now that we are seemingly in the very upstart of things with June passing on, as time has a habit of fleeting, is of the opinion that we should capitalize, more than ever, on the climate beauty of this section.

At no time in the past has our opportunity to achieve recognition as the center of summer activities for the great Mississippi Valley area been so great as at present, says The Guide and concludes its timely editorial with this paragraph, believing that we should have more publicity and advertise far and wide this section:

"It is through a continuous stream of publicity and advertising that Florida and California have achieved fame as lands of golden sunshine. These states can offer no more in natural beauty than the Coast. It is up to us to make the world know it."

10,000 PAGES JUNK.

CONGRESS has been working so long that the Government Printing Office is running short on cash for printing the Congressional Record—the daily report of activity on Senate and House floors.

Russell H. Herrell, printing office comptroller, told a House appropriations subcommittee during hearings on a deficiency appropriation bill, that a $408,000 deficit was expected because Congress has been in session about three months longer than usual.

As a result, he said, the Congressional Record will run about 10,000 pages more than for the last fiscal year.

Ten thousand pages in excess! Dribble and junk, printing speeches many of which were never delivered, but printed by special leave. And this is how, in part, the tax-payers' money goes.

FOR THE SAFETY OF HUMAN LIVES.

A SOURCE says State authorities in Mississippi and city heads in New Orleans are putting so many restrictions on auto driving that there will be no pleasure left. But, at least, there might be safety. Too many lunatics are running wild driving cars, exceeding sane speed, unmindful of caution and imbibing too freely of the amber colored fluid carried either in the hip pocket or in the car.

Such individuals at the wheel have little or no regard of the rights of others, red lights, parking and other signs.

With increasing fatalities on the highways protective measures cannot be too drastic nor too rigidly enforced.

On Tuesday we had more daylight than again for a year. However, collections did not show any great improvement.

VACATIONS ARE PROFITABLE.

IT BECOMES the duty of every self-respected editor about this time of the year, to recommend to all readers that they make plans to enjoy a summer vacation.

The editor of The Echo would not be careless in this matter. Nor would we have our readers to think, for an instance, that we think his advice is foolish. It is pretty sound doctrine, whether all of our readers accept it or not.

Men and women should take the opportunity to get away from their regular work routines. Eminent physicians, nerve specialists and psychologists recommend a vacation as a means of increasing one's ability to work. An unusually successful business man attributes his fortune to the fact that every year he compels himself to take a vacation.

Many families in this country have already made plans for a vacation trip. Each will go and do what strikes the fancy of the particular family group. Some will rush to the large cities, spend their time sight-seeing and dashing madly about and conclude that the vacation trip was marvelous. Others will want a quiet spot, remote from the world and most of its alarms, with the opportunity to loaf, sleep and play. Whatever your own idea may be, go ahead with your vacation plans. The time taken will not be lost, and you will return to your regular routine refreshed in body as well as in mind.

RANSOM FOR MURDER.

THE old-time kidnapping seems to be passing from the picture. Old kidnappers seized the victim, demand a ransom, and when it was paid delivered the person seized.

Recently, kidnappers have been working differently. In prominent cases, the kidnappers have apparently promptly killed their victims, then demanded ransom, knowing they could not deliver.

The fear and love of parents quite naturally protected the criminals from immediate pursuit by officers of the law, in the hope that the child would be returned upon payment of the money demanded. Now, this seems to be unfounded hope.

It would be, to many, a harshly cruel parent who would refuse to pay ransom and immediately turn the police on the trail. Yet, in view of recent methods used by kidnappers this would seem to promise just as much safety to the child—a prompt pursuit might push the kidnappers hard enough that they would be afraid to kill their victim.

There is something peculiarly repulsive about this crime. Human vultures preying upon the love and protective instinct of parents in order to extort money, and quite brutally stamping out the life which they use as a lever. No punishment is too severe for such abnormal fiends.

POULTRY IN MISSISSIPPI.

THAT poultry can be made one of the most dependable sources of farm income has been effectively demonstrated by Panola county farm women, according to a report from Miss Helen Hunter, county home demonstration agent, to Miss Mary Cresswell, state agent in charge of home demonstration work at Mississippi State College.

During a single week in May, 25 farm families in the county sold 901 dozen white shell, infertile, graded eggs to raise the total for one month to 3,112 dozen.

The fine grade and high quality of eggs put on the market by these farm families brought a premium over ordinary eggs and the prices have held up throughout the spring months, Miss Hunter reported.

The producers have formed an association in order to benefit from group effect. They furnish their own egg cases, market collectively by truck on the Memphis market and buy feed cooperatively at a little above wholesale price.

Members of the association are pleased with the results obtained. All eggs are carefully graded and packed in attractive cartons, and quality and freshness guaranteed.

HERE'S A RECORD.

ANY individual who goes thirteen years without missing a day's work has an enviable health record. There are not many Americans who can boast of such a record.

This observation makes more remarkable the astonishing achievement of Lou Gehrig, who has played in more than two thousand consecutive baseball games. In 1925, the "Iron Man" participated in his first game for the New York Yankees. For full thirteen years, including fourteen playing seasons, Gehrig has ignored physical ailments and injuries that threatened to halt his career. He has also withstood the challenge of newcomers and has continued throughout the period to be one of the outstanding players in the nation.

Baseball fans will appreciate the statistics which show that he has batted an average of .303 during the thirteen years. To his credit, at the end of two thousand games, are 506 doubles, 155 triples, 468 homeruns and 1,897 runs batted in. They tell you, in case you don't know, that it will be a long time before anybody better the record of "Columbia Lou."

SESSION EXTRAORDINARY.

ALL eyes are turned to Jackson, the State capital.

Gov. White will soon call the Legislature in extraordinary session to discuss and to adopt laws making possible homestead exemption in Mississippi—city, county and state tax free.

Many new angles to the proposition are daily arising and from Jackson, Mayor Scott, is controverting the proposed issue.

A correspondent of a Jackson paper, in a lengthy communication, asks why should an owner of valuable home, able to pay taxes, be set free while the renter, who will have to pay more in order for the owner to carry the additional tax burden, pay more. The renter is generally from the poorer class, the tenant farmer, especially.

However, that is why the legislature is going to be called in special session. To discuss, debate, to offer and reject or accept, as the case may be, such propositions as may arise. To do best by the people and communities and to afford greater advantages to the majority.

PRESIDENT MAY CALL SPECIAL SESSION CONGRESS

Month of November, Says Congressman Colmer—Congressional Appropriations—Bills Defeated.

(By Congressman W. M. Colmer)

The 75th Congress has closed up shop and is on its way home. It came into office at the beginning of President Roosevelt's second term, in January, 1937, and it has been on the job in Washington practically continuously since then. It has been in session fourteen out of the past seventeen months, a record for the three Congresses of this Administration. It may yet approach the all-time record, for it is freely predicted in Washington that Congress will be called back in special session again about the middle of November to work out the problem of aid for the railroads.

During the closing days of Congress, the following appropriations of particular interest to our section were made:

1. $4,000,000 for agricultural research laboratories. Mississippi hopes to secure one.
2. $1,800,000 to redeem the 1933 cotton pool certificates. Payments will be made at the rate of $1 per bale.
3. Increase of the Farm Security appropriation for tenant farmers from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000. This is part of the program to assist worthy tenants to acquire their own land.
4. $212,000,000 earmarked in the Relief Bill to provide prices nearer parity for producers of basic agriculture commodities.
5. $145,000 for a tung oil experimental laboratory.

Relief references to the last two mentioned items might prove of further interest.

Tung Oil

Because the largest tung oil plantations in the United States are centered in South Mississippi, we have been endeavoring for the past five years to get national legislation to assist this promising industry. Under the Russell-Colmer Bill a laboratory and experiment station for research and experimentation in the field of tung oil development would have been established. But we ran into obstacles from the budget and others. However, we did succeed in earmarking approximately $145,000 which is now available for this purpose. This should mean much to South Mississippi, which is recognized as the ideal place in the United States for the production of this oil which is now almost exclusively imported from China.

ESTEEMED RESIDENT PASSES ON

Paul Louis Mollere, well-known resident of the Bay-Waveland section of the Gulf Coast, died Friday night of a heart attack at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Mollere, residing in Jeff Davis avenue, Waveland, with whom he was making his home at the time.

The news of the passing of this prominently-known resident was received with surprise and general regret. It was not generally known he was ailing to that extent that the end was so near and, in fact, shortly before he had retired, he was talking in usual manner of conversation with his son.

The remains were taken in charge by the Fahey Funeral Company and laid out at the Funeral Home in Union street, from which place the last rites of the home took place, the Rev. M. J. Costello, pastor Church of St. Claire, Waveland, officiating. The cortege made way to Waveland where the church ceremony was held, thence to Bay St. Louis where burial took place in the family burial plot at Cedar Rest cemetery, largely attended and many floral offerings marked the freshly new-made mound.

Paul Louis Mollere was born at New Orleans, La., and would have been 78 years old this November. His mother born Miss Felicie Deville, was a native of Metz, France, while his father was of native French parentage.

Mr. Mollere was a registered voter of Hancock county for 51 years, coming here from New Orleans while still a young man. He resided in Waveland for several years after which time when Gulfport became a fast-growing town and there was plenty of employment for master mechanics he moved to that place, where he resided a few years. Following that period, when in his pursuit activities became somewhat restricted, he moved back to Hancock county, this time moving to Bay St. Louis where he became permanently established, living many years in Carroll avenue.

His wife died in 1936, breaking up his home he divided his time between Pass Christian, where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Herman Finhold, and in Waveland where he made his home, dividing his time—a while residing at the home of his son, Charles B., and more latterly for a longer period with his son Joseph, in Jefferson Davis avenue, where he passed away.

After he had been a resident of Waveland a short while he married Miss Martha Chadwick of that place, who preceded him to the grave some two years ago.

From this happy union eight children were born, all living. They are Chas. B. Mollere, Waveland; John D. Mollere, Bay St. Louis; Louis Paul Mollere, and Mrs. Naomi Mollere Newman, both are residents of Wilmington, California; David E. and Joseph H. Mollere, both residents of Waveland; Mrs. Herman Finhold, of Pass Christian, Miss., and Miss Mary Mollere, of Los Angeles, California, the latter twins.

Other than these Mr. Mollere had no immediate blood relatives. A brother, the late Jules G. Mollere, of New Orleans, and a valued employee of the N. O. postoffice for over fifty years, older than he passed away only a few years ago.

Dan Chadwick of Waveland, Charles Chadwick of Gulfport were brothers-in-law, and Mrs. W. L. Bourgeois, was a sister-in-law.

Mr. Mollere was essentially a family man, one who loved his home, his place of residence and people of the community. While he took an active interest in public affairs, he never sought office but had been solicited several times in his younger years. He came from a splendid line of ancestry back in France. He was fond of home, family and friends—a friend in time of need. Than this no simpler and finer tribute might be paid.

He leaves a fine family of grown children who will carry on the traditions of an old and honored family. Patriotism, nobility of character, unswerving loyalty are among the finer attributes of this splendid type of citizen who has gone to his rest.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wheelerhan and young sons, Walter and Robert, are here from New Orleans on a vacation stay and are visiting friends in Union street. Mr. Wheelerhan is an announcer for Station WSMB, of New Orleans, of which his brother, the well-known Harold Wheelerhan, is executive manager.

—A new addition to our fleet of pleasure crafts is always interesting to note. The latest, the "Gulf Wind-tenth," of the one class 27-ft. sloops, built for Louis Shadowsky of New Orleans by Zona Carter, renowned boat builder of Biloxi, sailed over on Sunday and dropped anchor at Watt's Bayou, to be in these waters for about a month before going over to the Southern Yacht Club at New Orleans. Walter Leonard, Chas. A. Breath, Jr., Erwin Bontempis, accompanied Mr. Shadowsky over from Biloxi, and all enjoyed the sail immensely.

MISS CALHOUN'S

WEDDING AT N. O.

TO MR. J. J. MORRIS.

The New Orleans Times-Picayune carries this account of a wedding of direct interest here:

Of interest here and in Mississippi was the wedding Wednesday morning of Miss Noel May Calhoun, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Worthing Calhoun, to Mr. Joseph James Morris which was celebrated in New Orleans at 10 o'clock at the church of the Immaculate Conception with the Reverend Father Joseph Maring, pastor of the church, officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with tall palms and standards holding white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. J. Worthing Calhoun, wore a gown of white marquisette over a white taffeta. Trimming the full skirt, which fell into a long train, were panels of Chantilly lace and similar lace bordered the square neckline of the bodice. Her veil of illusion was held in place by a chaplet of orange blossoms and she carried a round bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride had as her attendants her sister, Mrs. Lucien Gex of Bay St. Louis, Miss, as matron of honor, another sister, Miss Gertrude Calhoun, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Earl Buckley and Miss Margaret Morris. They wore frocks of white mousseline de sole over white taffeta and large leghorn hats tied with streamers down the back to the edge of the skirts. Their bouquets were of daisies.

The ushers were Messrs. Omer Kuebel, R. G. Drown, Jr., and Leopold Kleinschmidt.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents at which the two families, members of the bridal party and a few close friends were entertained. Mrs. Calhoun, wearing a summery gown of pink chiffon, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Morris, mother of the bridegroom, who wore aquamarine lace with white accessories. They also wore corsage bouquets of roses to harmonize with their gowns.

Mr. Morris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Morris of this city. He and his bride left on a motor trip to Mexico and upon their return will be at home at 4600 South Tonti street. The bride's going-away costume was of navy blue chiffon worn with navy blue and white accessories.

The guests began to arrive at the appointed time and following the breakfast a number remained and played bridge.
